

Job Description

Physical Activity Coordinator

POSITION SYNOPSIS AND PURPOSE

(A position overview and how it aligns with corporate strategies)

The Physical Activity Coordinator, a Municipal Physical Activity Leader (MPAL) position, is crucial in fostering a healthier, more active community by developing and implementing a comprehensive Physical Activity Strategy (PAS). This role encourages increases in unstructured physical activity levels in community through conventional, creative, and unique approaches, enhancing residents' access to daily simple movement, facilities, active transportation routes, and recreational spaces. This role is focused on increasing unstructured physical activity among low-active and equity deserving populations, with particular attention to built environment initiatives, social supports and policy integration.

The Physical Activity Coordinator works in partnership with the Nova Scotia Department of Communities, Culture, Tourism and Heritage (CCTH) and collaborates with municipal departments, Indigenous organizations, community organizations and other collaborators. By evaluating the effectiveness of various strategies and interventions, the MPAL ensures that initiatives lead to meaningful and lasting changes in physical activity levels, contributing to the overall health, social, and economic wellbeing of the community.
